

POSITION DESCRIPTION – SCHEDULES A & B

POSITION DESCRIPTION DOCUMENT PURPOSE – SCHEDULE A

The purpose of this position description document is to provide a description of the role, and how that role fits within Melbourne Institute of Technology (MIT) as an organisation.

This document is not comprehensive, but provides an outline of key areas of accountability and desired outcomes to demonstrate a satisfactory performance of the role. It does not provide an exhaustive list of tasks and activities to be performed in order to fulfil the role; thus, extra activities not listed here may be required of the position in the discharge the duties.

POSITION DETAILS

Position Title:	Senior Lecturer and Course Coordinator Bachelor of Engineering (Technology)
School / Division:	School of IT & Engineering
Campus:	Melbourne
Employment Mode	Fixed 2-year contract; extended upon successful completion of the first term of contract. Extension of contract is subject to job performance.
Probationary Period	6 months
Time Fraction	Full Time

ROLE

To provide academic leadership in designing, coordinating and teaching telecommunications engineering units in courses offered by the School of IT & Engineering (SITE), and to assist in the coordination and management of these units. The position contributes to the School achieving its objectives and goals, which in turn support the vision and strategic aims of the institution. The teaching and learning (T&L) and coordination responsibilities of the position include unit development, unit delivery, program coordination and student advice.

A primary focus of this position is to make a strong contribution to continually improving MIT's quality of services, by actively developing high quality, research-informed T&L material, coordinating courses and identifying and responding to student needs.

The position reports to the Head of SITE.

MIT VISION AND GOALS
